Placed their dearest earthly possession: there neatlyrcovered (for even its outward appearance was precious to them) lay that best of all books from whose sacred pages this happy family daily learnt to make their happiness lasting, by ascribing all their enjoyments, to the goodness of their heavenly Father, and by bringmg into their constant practice those principles of divine love and wisdom, by which fallen man is mercifully instructed in every duty towards himself, his neighbour, and his God. Two prayer books, and one or two other volumes were neatly ranged in order on the shelf, and sure I am no one could have Jooked into this dwelling without forming a favorable opinion of its inhabitants, though not one of them had been visible. It has been my good fortune to see, at different times, each member of the little household, and I have been alike pleased with the good tempered countenance of the, active Mary, the honest intelligence...
