

Infección por VHC en hemodiálisis

By Osniel Bencomo Rodríguez

EAE Jun 2012, 2012. Taschenbuch. Book Condition: Neu. 220x150x3 mm. This item is printed on demand - Print on Demand Neuware - Con el objetivo de diseñar una estrategia para contribuir a la disminución de la incidencia de infección por virus de la hepatitis C (VHC) en los pacientes bajo tratamiento sustitutivo de la función renal con hemodiálisis en el hospital Augusto C. Sandino, se realizó un estudio observacional, descriptivo, en el periodo comprendido desde Enero del 2009 hasta Diciembre del 2010. Se estudiaron 31 pacientes, predominando entre ellos el sexo masculino, los mayores de 50 años, el color de piel blanca, y la HTA y la Diabetes Mellitus como principales causas de IRCT. El catéter como vía de acceso y la desnutrición fueron los factores que más incrementaron el riesgo de infección por VHC. Se evaluó el conocimiento sobre VHC y medidas de bioseguridad al inicio del estudio y existía un profundo desconocimiento, lo cual mejoró significativamente después del curso de superación brindado. La incidencia de infección por VHC, puede ser disminuida significativamente con intervenciones educativas y con estricto control del cumplimiento de las medidas de bioseguridad. 52 pp. Spanisch.
