Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Leaves of Belleaw Wood, Vol. 1: December 1919 After the evening session of the Convention on Tuesday, many hundred delegates attended the grand ball at the Armory, given by the citizens of Minneapolis in honor of The American Legion. The floor was immense, and the jazziest kind of a jazz orchestra, alternating with the Million Dollar Band, furnished music until two o'clock Wednesday morning. Outside the auditorium of the Armory the canteens were in full operation, dispensing ice-cream, sandwiches and coffee. Joyce Lewis, of Long Prairie, Minnesota, a marine who fought at Belleau Wood, was elected one of the Nation Vice-Commanders of the Legion. Although he is paralyzed as a result of wounds received at Belleau Wood, and is confined to a wheelchair, Mr. Lewis is an exceedingly cheerful man and takes great interest in the activities of The American Legion. Beginning January 1, 1920, the National dues will be $1.00. This means the Post dues will be $3.00 annually, payable in semiannual installments, as before. This is, however, not to be weighed in...
