Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2016. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Survival 5 DIY Natural Weapons to Survive in the Wilderness Welcome to Survival 5 DIY Natural Weapons to Survive in the Wilderness, a D.I.Y. book designed to show you how to take pure nature and turn it into a usable weapon for survival. While most guides will assume that you have a knife, this guide assumes only that you are in a survivable environment, such as a forest or the woods. First, we will go over a very ancient weapon that is classically used by the native tribes in the world even to this day; the bow. In this section, we will go over how to: Choose the right wood to start whittling. Whittle when you have no knife. Turn basic weeds into a drawstring. How to determine whether the bow you have set out to make will be something that can take down much larger animals. Make arrows. Make a Secondary Weapon to fire flying projectiles with. Then we ll go over the classical weapons of the past; the spear and club. In this area, we ll cover not only misconceptions about the make and design of such weapons but we ll also cover how to calculate the impact force yourself so that you can determine how much damage a single swing can really do. This is to help you determine whether your weapon will handle a survival fight with much larger animals or if it will break in half and you need to choose another one. The remainder of the book will cover both tools and weapons, such as: The hammer that can double as an ax. Protecting yourself from predators at night. Catching fish the easy...
